September 2019 Volume 48 No 8

The community newsletter for Mapledurwell,
Up Nately, Newnham, Nately Scures & Greywell

The 17th Annual Abbey Lecture will be given on Friday October 11th 2019 at 7pm
In the Abbey Church, GU34 4AP
The subject: "Freeing the incarcerated from prisons of their own making" chosen by our Lecturer Canon Alan Hodgetts OSB Obl.

Let us go, sit in our cell...

...and our cell will teach us everything

These words of Abba Moses chime with the experience of this great man:

The cell is an ideal place to know yourself. People tend to measure themselves by external accomplishments, but jail allows a person to focus on internal ones, such as honesty, sincerity, simplicity, humility, generosity and an absence of variety. You learn to look into yourself.

Mandela (who spent 27 years in prison):

Alan will help us explore why we do what we do and how the Enneagram can inspire transformation through Self Awareness, Self-Regulation and Self Compassion for all of us on both sides of the bars. The Enneagram comes into its own when the Pain of Change becomes less than the Pain of Remaining the Same.

"Once we recognise the prisons we make for ourselves - then not only will the Lord come to us as He promised (Mt. 25.37) - but we discover the Truth that can set us free (Jn. 8.32)"

Canon Alan Hodgetts was ordained priest in 1983, serving 2 curacies in Birmingham and Hereford dioceses and 2 incumbencies in Guildford Diocese. He became a Prison Chaplain in 2006 and is currently the Managing Chaplain of HMP Woodhill. He became an Oblate of Alton Abbey during his Diaconal Year in 1982 and increasingly finds his spiritual life underpinned by the 3 Benedictine promises of Obedience, Stability and Conversion of Life. He is a trained Spiritual Director in the Ignatian Tradition and more recently a Certified Teacher of the Enneagram in the Narrative Tradition, in June he helped to guide the first Enneagram Prison Project in a UK prison.

The Lecture will be followed by supper with wine in the Abbey Refectory

Victoria's Promise are looking for volunteers to join their family!

Have you got a few spare hours to make an impact in helping to support young women with cancer and their families? Victoria's Promise are looking for volunteers to help promote and grow the charity in order to spread awareness on the impactful work that we do...

Victoria's Promise has been established for 5 years, filling the critical gaps in emotional, practical, physical and social support for young women who have been diagnosed with cancer. The aim of the charity is to support and empower young women, and their families, through the challenges of cancer treatment. We currently support young women who are being treated in the Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital and Royal Hampshire County Hospital.

Our volunteers play a significant role in Victoria's Promise and allow us to continue to support young women, and their families, through their cancer journey. Becoming a volunteer provides an opportunity to gain a rewarding and meaningful experience, meet new people and support an important cause.

As a Victoria's Promise volunteer you will have the opportunity to:

- Help to build awareness of the charity through distribution of donation boxes.
- Utilising your skillset to help to further the charity.
- Volunteer at fundraising events.
- Represent Victoria's Promise at external events.
- Become a child-minding/creche assistant (DBS check will be required, we would be happy to discuss assisting you with getting one)
- Look for and act on opportunities where VP can be promoted.

Anyone is welcome to apply. We value individuals who are:

- Driven
- Enthusiastic
- Have good communication skills
- Friendly
- Flexible
- Proactive

When will volunteers be needed?

How much time you are willing to volunteer is flexible to fit around your other commitments.

If you are interested in joining the VP family to help to make a real impact on the lives of young women and their families, then please email info@victorias-promise.org

Letter from Simon Butler - Vicar & Rector of the Benefice

Amongst the many thousands of graduation ceremonies in the US this year, one stands out as a little different. High School student Jack Higgins is severely autistic and hyper-sensitive to noise. His graduation ceremony posed a huge challenge with hundreds of students cheering and clapping in overwhelming joy. As he walked up onto the stage to receive his certificate he had his fingers in his ears.

What Jack didn't know was that his parents had arranged for his fellow students to give him a silent standing ovation. As he took his certificate Jack was congratulated with the silence of compassion.

The writer and commentator Adrian Hilton (who blogs under the pseudonym Archbishop Cranmer) wrote; "we live in a world of noise, but the wind in the trees and the music of the Lark have been invade by buzzes, commotion and crashes, not to mention the incessant clanging of social media. They may be inaudible, but they squawk at the soul like the pricks of needles. Our whole culture has become a cacophony of distraction and detached hearing: we are overwhelmed with social drumming, political yelling and noise."

I agree. And I think we need more silence.

Silence is good. In fact silence is golden. Especially in the presence of God.

It may be uncomfortable, but silence tests our shame, gives us space for self reflection and challenges us to appraise the depth of our soul. The chief purpose of silence in the church is to enable us to hear the voice of God. The chief purpose of silence in the world is to meditate on the self. In both cases we realise that busyness and lots of words are not the only route to well-being. Sometimes saying nothing is by far the better choice.

In the words of the former Archbishop of Canterbury Michael Ramsey "To learn from silence we have to do silence, and when we do silence we might just hear something we've never heard before."
